

Technology to Keep Your Communication Light Years Ahead

CLIENT

UBS Wealth Management is a global leader in wealth management. With a network of financial advisors spanning 50 countries on 5 continents, UBS provides a variety of excellent financial services to their clients based on understanding needs and strong relationships.

Challenge

UBS Wealth Management needed better tools to improve their communication with their growing clientele. Their low tech office environment and old, printed collateral did not help give them the appearance of a progressive company growing with the times. Their communication tools felt dated, and UBS Wealth Management wanted to portray that, as a global wealth management leader, they would not fall behind the times

Solution

Multiple 65" TRUTOUCH interactive displays were dispatched, loaded with the award winning IdeaMax software to multiple locations across UBS Wealth Managements' United States offices. Newlines' cutting edge touchscreen interfaces included internet access, mapping, annotation, printing, emailing and video conferencing from a single interactive screen. The TRUTOUCH displays would help portray UBS Wealth Management as the highly technological agency they are.

Results

UBS Wealth Management saw a great improvement in their ability to communicate with all of their clients in these offices, effectively help grow their business. Their image as a thriving global agency leading the way into the future improved, and continues to help them solidify and grow relationships with their clients. More UBS Wealth Management offices are looking to adapt the same strategies and TRUTOUCH technology from Newline to continue their growth.
